"Q: Order of a character vector in R I have a vector x of order n. I need an order to a second vector y of same size. For example : If x = (5,1,3,7,4,4,8,7) and y=(5,5,4,4,3,3,3,3) then "y" will be ordered with respect to the the "x" vector. Is there a way to do this in R? Thanks. A: You can use sort: x NMR-based metabolism profiling in human liver microsomes: new insights into in vitro-in vivo prediction. Microsomal cytochrome P450 enzymes metabolise more than 80% of drugs used in the clinic. For in vitro guidance of drug discovery projects, an optimal panel of human liver microsomal CYP activities is needed. However, the activity of CYP3A4 is highly variable between individuals, which might impact the prediction of in vivo drug metabolism. To evaluate whether this variability leads to false in vitro/in vivo correlations, we investigated the metabolic stability of a set of 22 model compounds in seven human liver microsomes from 6d1f23a050
